ABSTRACT

Drawing from a national survey conducted by the American Association of Community and Junior Colleges (AACJC), this report offers institutional and national statistics on two-year college enrollments, faculty, staff, degrees awarded, and student fees. Introductory material provides information on the AACJC and its affiliated councils, international members, associates, board of directors, and officers. Next, summary findings are presented based on the fall 1985 survey, including information on enrollment trends, institution types, tuition, faculty, budget, minority enrollments, student employment, degrees/certificates awarded, general education and occupational/technical degrees awarded, room and board, professional staff, administrators, and program enrollment. Changes in institutions since the 1985 directory are highlighted next, along with definitions of data categories. Next, the following information is presented by institution by state: location; zip code; chief executive officer; type of control; full-, part-time, and total enrollment for October 1984 and October 1985; minority enrollment; employed students; community education enrollments, 1984-85; total degrees awarded; total certificates awarded; full-, part-time, and total faculty; professional staff; administrative staff; and annual tuition and fee charges. The report concludes with lists of two-year college organizations, state directors/administrators of two-year college education; the AACJC constitution; the survey instrument; and an alphabetical listing of administrators and of two-year colleges. INTRODUCTION

Numbers clearly tell the story of community, technical, and junior college achievement. Over the past five years, despite serious enrollment declines projected by national experts, two-year college enrollments have held steady. Minority students, according to the Department of Education, have continued to enroll in greater numbers in our colleges. The number of associate degrees and certificates awarded in the last ten years jumped by nearly 200,000. The share of college students educated by two year colleges has advanced inexorably to the point that today our colleges enroll close to 40 percent of all students and 53 percent of all first time students. Nearly 50 percent of all handicapped college students in this country are benefiting from community, technical, and junior colleges.

The economic impact of two year colleges in their communities is substantial. We have become a $13.2 billion dollar a year industry in our own right and have enhanced the economic health and profitability of business and industry through the creation and application of thousands of training and education programs shaped to fit their needs. In addition, thousands of high school students are benefited through the collaborative efforts of our colleges and area high school leaders.

This volume provides even more insight into the nature and interests of one of America's most valuable segments of higher education. The statistics presented here were collected in the American Association of Community and Junior College's fall 1985 annual survey. Individual college data were provided by the colleges themselves. The analysis was prepared by AACJC staff. Enrollment information is for the fall 1985 term. Noncredit enrollment numbers are for the 1984–85 college year.

With the introduction of a new computer system at AACJC's offices, the annual survey instrument was streamlined to allow the addition of new questions. Included among the new data items were: minority enrollments, students with earned degrees currently enrolled in the colleges, budget information, and remedial education enrollments.

We are pleased with the data we have collected. We anticipate that the colleges' responses will be even more complete next year. Also, the introduction of a revised survey instrument will facilitate the collection by colleges of data critical to the creation of a comprehensive national data bank for community, technical, and junior colleges.

This is the third and final volume in a set of three directories that AACJC has produced in 1986. The first two volumes (AACJC Membership Directory and Who's Who in American Community, Technical, and Junior Colleges) were published earlier this year and included information about AACJC member colleges only. Descriptions of the earlier volumes are given in the frontispiece and in the publications list at the end of this text. This statistical directory lists all two-year colleges, including both AACJC members and nonmembers.

This series of directories is one of many means AACJC uses to better tell the community, technical, and junior college story. It is an important part of our national effort to promote public understanding, recognition, and support of our colleges.

AACJC Mission and Goals

The focus of the American Association of Community and Junior Colleges is to exert leadership and promote excellence in support of community, technical, and junior colleges. Success of the organization will be measured through its ability to promote public recognition, act as an advocate, develop linkages, and serve as a resource for member institutions engaged in delivering accessible educational opportunities which meet student needs.

Goal 1

Develop public understanding and recognition of and increase support for American community, technical, and junior colleges.

Goal 2

Reaffirm and promote the concept of access to postsecondary education for most Americans as fundamental to the mission of community, technical, and junior colleges and critical to the development of America's human resources.

Goal 3

Encourage the development of vibrant high school/community college partnership programs and promote the growth, acceptance, and practice of continuity in learning.

Goal 4

Assist community, technical, and junior colleges in defining, sustaining, and promoting excellence in all programs, and promote the associate degree as a standard of excellence.

Goal 5

Provide vigorous national leadership in human and economic resource development.

Goal 6

Maintain positive working relationships with other institutions and agencies at local, state, and national levels.

Goal 7

Gather the data about community, technical, and junior college students and programs needed to provide appropriate information to policymakers, analyze policies impacting these colleges, and alert member institutions to trends and issues that present significant opportunities or constraints.

Goal 8

Develop more vigorous programs of leadership training and professional development at the national level and assist colleges in their efforts to improve leadership through local staff development programs.

Goal 9

Help member colleges strengthen all areas of the curriculum, especially the humanities, arts, and sciences.

Goal 10

Provide vigorous national leadership to help colleges acquire and integrate new technologies into educational programs and apply appropriate technologies to the improvement of instructional delivery systems and internal administrative processes

Goal 11

Work more effectively with government, foundations, corporations, media, and decision-making centers and thereby enable community, technical, and junior colleges to provide the training strategies and capabilities necessary to keep America at the forefront of global competition.

AACJC Board of Directors

AMERICAN ASSOCIATION OF COMMUNITY AND JUNIOR COLLEGES

The American Association of Community and Junior Colleges, headquartered in Washington, D.C., is the only organization whose sole purpose is to represent the interests of public and private community, technical, and junior colleges of the nation.

The mission of the American Association of Community and Junior Colleges is to exert leadership, act as an advocate, and provide services in support of community, technical, and junior colleges, as these institutions deliver accessible educational opportunities designed to address the needs of the individuals, organizations, and communities forming their constituencies.

Advocacy

One of the most important functions AACJC serves is that of reaching out to governmental decision makers at the national, state, and local levels on behalf of the mission and needs of its member colleges, their staffs, and their students. AACJC has been particularly effective in communicating with federal officials, members of Congress, and other leaders regarding the missions and needs and the value of community, technical, and junior colleges throughout the nation.

In order to speak with "one voice and one agenda," AACJC has joined with the Association of Community College Trustees (ACCT) to form the Joint Commission on Federal Relations. The Joint Commission helps to ensure that the voice of community, technical, and junior colleges is heard clearly and that two-year colleges receive a fair share of federal funding and student financial aid.

Also in cooperation with ACCT, AACJC has undertaken a series of initiatives through "Keeping America Working." This project is establishing closer working relationships between business, industry, labor, government, and colleges. A grant from the Sears Foundation enables AACJC to provide funds to member colleges to encourage partnerships between colleges and businesses in their communities.

The major advantage of AACJC's location in the National Center for Higher Education is that it facilitates the establishment of coalitions with such associations as the American Council on Education, American Association of State Colleges and Universities, National Association of State Universities and Land-Grant Colleges, and many other associations representing various sectors of higher education. Through these linkages, AACJC is able to represent the interests of community colleges more effectively.

An important responsibility of AACJC is that of "telling the two-year college story" to the general public by providing information to the media through press releases, public service radio and television announcements, publications, and staff contact. The top priority item in the 1986 AACJC Public Policy Agenda is the development of lines of communication to the national media and the inclusion of information about community, technical, and junior colleges in their national coverage of American higher education.

Leadership

For 66 years college presidents and administrators have relied on the American Association of Community and Junior Colleges for leadership. Founded in 1920 as the American Association of Junior Colleges, the Association's name was changed in 1972 to reflect more accurately its membership. As the newest institutions in all of higher education, community, technical, and junior colleges are not well understood. AACJC has been a leader in bringing the achievements of two-year colleges to the attention of the rest of higher education by developing literature the academic world respects.

Opportunity with Excellence is much more than just the Association's motto. It represents the heart and soul of the two-year college movement in America. These colleges have provided opportunities for millions of students and have offered these students an excellent education. A current AACJC initiative is its efforts to enhance the status and value of the associate degree. Through an 11 point 1986 Public Policy Agenda, the Association will attempt to achieve its goals through an active program of leadership at the national level.

Service

As an association dedicated to helping its member colleges achieve their missions, goals, and objectives, AACJC provides many services.

As the most comprehensive organization in the United States representing community-based postsecondary education, AACJC serves as:

- A means of identifying and giving national recognition to emerging leaders for the future—individuals, institutions, and ideas.
- The only community, technical, and junior college voice for hundreds of national meetings, committees, councils, and commissions.
- A respected reference for appointment recommendations to membership on federal commissions, advisory bodies, and other notable organizations.

- A forum for members' institutional and personal views that will influence the future of education and the nation.
- A singular source of information collected by AACJC and unavailable elsewhere (this Directory, for example).
- A sounding board and clearinghouse for cost-effective, innovative ideas and people.
- A source of technical assistance for member colleges.

A variety of media is used to provide these services:

- Annual AACJC Convention and Workshops—to promote the exchange of ideas and information among more than 3,000 delegates from colleges nationwide. During the year, other conferences, workshops, and assemblies offer opportunities for special interest groups to come together, particularly for professional development.
- AACJC Letter—the only national weekly newsletter exclusively for community, technical, and junior colleges. Personally edited by AACJC President Dale Parnell, this award-winning weekly publication is for the busy executive who wants authoritative information in a hurry. Alternate issues of the Letter, entitled Federal Focus, provide current information on legislative issues and federal policies. It is edited by Frank Mensel, AACJC's vice president for federal relations, who monitors bills, attends hearings, develops testimony on pending legislation, analyzes policies that affect community, technical, and junior colleges, and publishes details in Federal Focus.
- Community, Technical, and Junior College Journal—offers readable, worthwhile information about exemplary programs, practices, and people in articles by presidents, administrators, professors, and other experts sharing their best ideas. (*6 issues per year)
- Community, Technical, and Junior College Directories—updated annually, the indispensable sources of essential information contain data gathered by AACJC directly from the colleges and other sources. AACJC research analysts are available year-round to answer questions from Association members, news media, and other organizations.
- Special publications—produced with the needs of college executives and staff in mind, these include a series of handy, concise pocket readers, monographs, reports, indicator briefs based on statistical data, legislative and legal briefs, bulletins, and brochures. The Leadership Bookshelf Series and the Issues Series continue to present community college administrators with helpful materials on a variety of topics. For additional information on AACJC publications see the complete list in the back of this directory.

In addition, the Association serves as headquarters for a liaison network involving the entire AACJC constituency, which includes:

- Community, technical, and junior college presidents, administrators, and staff.
- State college associations and state administrators.
- Affiliated councils.

Governance

Board of Directors

The Association is governed by a 31-member Board of Directors (or 32 if the chair is elected during his/her last term as Board member). The Board meets three times annually, in different parts of the country, to develop and monitor the policy framework within which the AACJC carries out its mission. Standing committees of the Board meet periodically during the year and provide for much of the in-depth work of the Board. Current committees, appointed by the chairman of the Board, are:

- Executive Committee—responsible for personnel matters, finance, and for emergency situations. R. Jan LeCroy is chair and Lawrence W. Tyree is vice chair. Members include the immediate past chair, Joshua L. Smith, and chairs of four standing committees. Association officers who meet with the Executive Committee are Dale Parnell, president and chief executive officer; James F. Gollattscheck, executive vice president and Association treasurer; Connie Odems, vice president for professional services and secretary of the Association; Diane U. Eisenberg, interim vice president for communications services and editor-in-chief; and Frank Mensel, vice president for federal relations.
- Committee on Federal Relations—responsible for government-related matters in cooperation with the Association of Community College Trustees. Edward J. Liston is chair and David H. Ponitz and John E. Ravekes is vice chairs. Members are Charles A. Green, C. Nelson Grote, Judith E. Madonia, Gordon Stulberg, Lex D. Walters. Frank Mensel from AACJC is staff.
- Committee on Association Vitality and Publications—responsible for long-range planning and publications oversight. Kathleen F. Arns is chair and George B. Vaughan is vice chair. Members are Robert A. Anderson, Jr., Louis Bender, Ronald K. Lingle, Kay M. Moore, John F. Vance. Diane U. Eisenberg and Dale Parnell from AACJC are staff.
- Committee on Directors and Membership Services—responsible for internal operations of the Board, membership services, and Board nominations. R. Stephen Nicholson is chair and J.F. Hockaday is vice chair. Members are Carl M. Crawford, Thomas Gonzales, Donald W. McInnis, Donald L. Newport, Patricia L. Wirth. Lawrence W. Tyree is an ex-officio member and James F. Gollattscheck from AACJC is staff.
- Committee on Professional Services—responsible for convention program, determining national award winners, and review of council programs and affiliations. Donald G. Phelps is chair and Geraldine A. Evans is vice chair. Members are Constance M. Carroll, Arthur M. Cohen, George D. Fields, Jr., Arthur Shy, and Raymond A. Stone. Connie Odems from AACJC is staff.

Board members normally serve terms of three years each, with one-third of the Board elected each year. Eighteen directors are representatives of institutions, elected by the Board; six are representatives of the affiliated councils, elected by the AACJC membership; and one member is the immediate past chairman of the Board, elected by the Board. By constitutional authority, the majority of the Board must be chief executive officers.

Nominations of the institutional representatives are made by the Committee on Directors and Membership Services. While continually open to receive recommendations, the Committee contacts the institutional members in the early fall, seeking recommendations for the following year. The Committee seeks persons capable and willing to bring dedicated and creative leadership to the Association and to the Board. With the recommendations from the field, together with its own experience, the Committee meets in the late fall to develop a slate of multiple nominations. Additional nominations can be made from the field following the Committee's report. The name of any such person, qualified to be a member of the Board, is added to the annual ballot when supported by letters from at least 50 official institutional representatives.

Annual elections, by mail ballot, are conducted no later than April 15 of each year. Each member institution is authorized one ballot to be completed by the official institutional representative.

Further information about the Board of Directors may be obtained from the president or secretary of the Association.

Officers

There are five officers of the Association. The chairman and vice chairman of the Board are elected by the Board of Directors each spring to serve one year—July 1 through June 30. The president of the Association is appointed by the Board to serve for a time designated by the Board. The secretary and treasurer of the Association are designated by the president with the approval of the Board.

Current officers (1986-87) are:

Chairman of the Board of Directors
R. Jan LeCroy

Vice Chairman of the Board of Directors
Lawrence W. Tyree

President and Chief Executive Officer
Dale Parnell

Treasurer and Vice President
James F. Gollattscheck

Secretary and Vice President
Connie Odems

Commissions

Three commissions have been created by the Board to provide guidance in specific areas of concern to the Association. Commission members are appointed by the chairman of the Board and normally serve terms of three years.

- The Joint Commission on Federal Relations replaces the former Committee on Governmental Relations. The Joint Commission was formed by AACJC and the Association of Community College Trustees to unify the agenda of the two-year colleges in working with Congress and the federal agencies. Sixteen presidents, trustees, and state executives make up this "grass roots" voice of community colleges on national policy. Commission chairman is Sandra L. Ritter, Trustee, Oakland Community College.
- The Commission on Small/Rural Community Colleges, composed of 12 chief executive officers from member institutions, focuses attention on the needs and concerns of small and rural colleges. D. Kent Sharples, President, Horry-Georgetown Technical College, is chairman.
- The Commission on Urban Community Colleges was established in 1983 to advise the president and Board of AACJC on matters of concern to community colleges serving urban communities. Fifteen chief executive officers from member institutions make up the commission. Flora Mancuso Edwards, President, Middlesex County College, is chairman.

Keeping America Working Task Force

The Keeping America Working Task Force (KAW) is a jointly sponsored AACJC and Association of Community College Trustees (ACCT) initiative. The KAW Task Force (formerly Putting America Back to Work) is rooted in the original Business/Industry Council (BIC) concept and initiative at ACCT. The primary thrust of Phase I, Putting America Back to Work, was to raise the consciousness of leaders in the public and private sectors with respect to the largely untapped training resource housed in our nation's community, technical, and junior colleges. Phase II has continued this consciousness raising and also has concentrated on brokering relationships between nationally based businesses and industries and two-year colleges.

The 26-member Task Force has an equal number of appointments from the two Associations, with membership selected by the respective Association presidents. Task Force members include both educators and representatives from the business/industry community. The Task Force chairman, also a joint appointment, traditionally has been a representative from the private sector. Philip K. Hammond, president, Dynamic Sciences, Inc., currently serves as chairman. Operational monies have come from AACJC and ACCT general funds, grants awarded by the Sears Foundation, and a Shell Oil Company grant. The Task Force has met on an ad hoc basis about three times per year.

Consortia

- The International/Intercultural Consortium (I/IC) was formed in 1976 in response to the growing interest of local community, technical, and junior colleges in international education. The consortium is an institutional membership organization composed of (53 U.S.) two-year colleges (and 21 international institutions) that sponsor a range of programs, including internationalizing curricula, group and individual study abroad, faculty/administrator/student study abroad, international trade education, cultural awareness programs, technical assistance provision to institutions in other countries, area/ethnic studies, foreign language courses, global peace/health/political/ecological seminars, and foreign student enrollments.

Consortium membership is open to all U.S. accredited two-year colleges that offer an associate degree and to AACJC International members. Annual membership fees are $500. A secretariat consisting of the AACJC director of international services and the staff assistant in the international office provide administrative services. Annual meetings of member institution presidents are called to review consortium activities and to set directions for the next 12-month period. Similar meetings are called of the member college coordinators of international education. During the annual AACJC convention, special forums/workshops are offered that focus on international education issues, a reception is sponsored to greet international participants at the meeting, and a consortium business session is conducted. The consortium executive committee is composed of all member institution presidents.

- The Instructional Telecommunications Consortium (ITC), established in 1977 under the title Task Force on Uses of Mass Media in Learning, serves as a clearinghouse for and disseminator of information about telecommunications uses in postsecondary education. The Consortium encourages cooperation among ITC members and community colleges in planning, designing, and utilizing telecommunications-based curricula and acts as an agency to influence and shape telecommunications policies as they affect postsecondary institutions.

  Membership currently stands at 37 and is comprised of single institutions, multicampus districts, and regional and statewide consortia of community colleges. Additional categories of membership include individual and corporate affiliates. Members pay annual dues based on FTE that range from $550 to $1,250 per year. Consortia of institutions pay a flat $1,500 per year. The ITC maintains an office and a staff director at AACJC. An Executive Committee, comprised of Consortium member representatives, recommends policy to the full membership.

Servicemembers Opportunity Colleges

The Servicemembers Opportunity Colleges (SOC) project was founded by the American Association of Community and Junior Colleges (AACJC) in 1972, and in 1973 a four-year college component was added. The project is cosponsored by AACJC and the American Association of State Colleges and Universities. SOC institutions agree to certain principles and criteria to ensure that high-quality programs are available to military students, and to help remove unnecessary barriers that members of the Armed Services and many veterans encounter when pursuing postsecondary education (e.g., articulation). SOC institutions collectively confer the full range of associate, baccalaureate, and graduate degrees.

SOC has an Advisory Board of 22 members who represent the cosponsoring associations, the 11 cooperating higher education agencies, the four military services, and the Coast Guard. The Board meets twice a year. Barbara H. Knudson, Professor, Center for International Studies, University of Minnesota, chairs the Board. SOC is funded through contracts with the Department of Defense and the Armed Services.

AACJC/NLN-CADP Liaison Committee

The Liaison Committee of the American Association of Community and Junior Colleges and the National League for Nursing-Council of Associate Degree Programs was established in 1969 to promote cooperation and to serve as a means of communication and coordination between AACJC and NLN-CADP on matters of mutual concern. Over the years, the Committee has identified issues in associate degree nursing programs, formulated recommendations for the consideration of the parent groups relative to the improvement of nurse education, and provided a forum for interaction between educators in nursing and community, technical, and junior college administrators.

The Committee consists of 6 members, 3 appointed by AACJC and 3 appointed by NLN. In addition, each organization designates staff as ex-officio members, without vote. The Committee meets twice annually, in the fall and in conjunction with the AACJC and/or NLN conventions in the spring. Travel expenses of the members are the responsibility of the respective appointing organizations, and AACJC also maintains a special general fund account to cover other expenses.

Presidents Academy

The Presidents Academy devotes attention to the roles, welfare, and professional development of chief executive officers of AACJC member institutions. It provides opportunities to exchange ideas, a program for inservice professional development, and a means of expressing concerns of chief executive officers. Inquiries may be directed to Michael E. Crawford, Chancellor, St. Louis Community College, who is Academy chairman.

Association of Community College Trustees

AACJC maintains close and cordial working relationships with the Association of Community College Trustees. ACCT serves more than 4,000 trustees, who shape policy and community support for some 750 American two-year colleges. Through its annual convention, other conferences and seminars, and varied information services, ACCT helps to equip governing boards and their members to oversee such diverse functions as systems management, collective bargaining, budget processes, performance evaluations, board retreats, and administrative searches. The ACCT president for 1985–86 is Robert E. Garrison Jr., trustee, Muskegon Community College, Michigan. William H. Meardy is executive director.

AFFILIATED COUNCILS

AACJC has introduced a system of councils through which the common interests of their members can be served. Councils provide individuals with the means to affiliate with the Association beyond official institutional representation. Within a flexible organizational arrangement, councils are encouraged to take initiatives in pursuing proposals and activities in support of Association and council goals.

Through a formal process, councils are recognized as affiliates for a specified period of time—usually three years. A regular review process established by the AACJC Board of Directors allows for extension of the recognition period. Each council is assigned at least one AACJC Board member and one member of the AACJC staff to act as liaisons. In addition, the Associations' Constitution and Bylaws provide for six members of the AACJC Board to be elected by the institutional membership to serve as official council representatives on the Board.

Fifteen councils are presently affiliated with the Association:

American Association of Women in Community and Junior Colleges

The American Association of Women in Community and Junior Colleges (AAWCJC) is one of the largest and most responsive organizations working for the concerns of women in education. Formed in 1973, the association represents its members on a state and ten-region basis. Steady increases in female students, staff, and educational professionals have had a dynamic effect on the growth and professional activities of AAWCJC. Key benefits of AAWCJC membership are a quarterly newsletter, a job bank, and a variety of professional development activities for women in two-year colleges at the local, state, regional, and national levels.

President: Beverly Simone, Administrator, North Campus, Milwaukee Area Technical College, Mequon, WI 53092; (414) 242-2303.

Community College Humanities Association

The Community College Humanities Association (CCHA) is dedicated to strengthening the humanities in community, technical, and junior colleges. CCHA serves as a catalyst in defining the issues facing humanities faculty and administrators, in finding solutions to problems in the field, and in establishing a communication network for all humanists. Special seminars, five annual regional meetings, a triannual newsletter, and an annual journal provide for the exchange of ideas and information, support the professional work of humanities faculty, and encourage scholarly activity in the humanistic disciplines.

Council of Universities and Colleges

The purpose of the Council of Universities and Colleges (CUC) is to promote peer relationships and stimulate publication and research among professors housed in college and university graduate schools. Members of the council are specialists in community, technical, and junior college issues (often having substantial experience as two-year college educators) and regard service to the applied field as one of their major responsibilities. Since these individuals spend a large portion of their time training personnel to function within two-year colleges, the council also sees itself as an instrument to support professional development in the field.

NCCHC is dedicated to the furthering of quality education for Hispanic Americans, to the enhancement of a pluralistic society, and to the development of the nation's total human resources. Program emphasis includes promoting the professional development of Hispanic leadership within the colleges, the expansion of curriculum and supportive services for Hispanic students, and the implementation of meaningful affirmative-action programs. NCCHC meets annually in conjunction with AACJC's national convention.

NCBAA, working through its four regions, focuses on matters involving curricula, human resource development, data collection, information dissemination, and pursuing solutions to problems in education that confront black people. The following are council priorities: (1) professional development of black leadership within colleges; (2) expansion of supportive services for low-income students; and (3) implementation of effective affirmative action programs.

President: Carl Crawford, Provost, North Campus, Broward Community College, Coconut Creek, FL 33066; (305) 973-2202.

FINDINGS

For more than 55 years, the American Association of Community and Junior Colleges has conducted a national survey of two-year colleges to collect important facts.

The results of the fall 1985 survey are presented in the following pages. The survey instrument was sent to 1,313 institutions and 82 multi-college/multi-campus district offices. A copy of the survey instrument is contained in the appendix.

Responses were solicited from all postsecondary institutions that award associate degrees, including individual two-year colleges, multi-college districts, multi-campus districts, universities and four-year colleges, and branches of four-year colleges and universities. One hundred (100) percent of the institutions reported total credit enrollment headcount. For other data items the return rate was lower, and varied among the items.

To accommodate the different return rates for each of the data items, a simplified weighting procedure was used to generate acceptable totals. The base of the weighting procedure is total enrollments. For every other data item, computer commands were given to calculate reported totals and to sum total enrollments in those colleges providing data for the selected question. The total enrollment figure for the reporting colleges was compared with the total enrollment number for all colleges, and a percent was produced. The percent was divided into the reported total of the data item to create a weighted total.

For example, total credit headcount enrollment in the public colleges reporting operating budget figures was 2,276,421 or 49.5 percent of the sum of credit headcount enrollment in all institutions. The sum of all budgets reported by these colleges was $6,337,516,969. The sum divided by 49.5 percent is $12,803,064,000. The figure represents the weighted total budget of all public community, technical, and junior colleges reached through this survey.

Except where it is indicated, all numbers presented in this section are weighted numbers arrived at through this method.

ENROLLMENTS

Total credit headcount enrollment for the fall 1985 was 4,730,235. The figure for fall 1984 was 4,759,401. The difference represents an enrollment drop of 0.6 percent. (In the fall of 1985, early enrollment gauges indicated that two-year colleges would experience a percent drop of between two and three percent overall.) This finding is consistent with the general enrollment stability that community, technical, and junior colleges have experienced over the past five years. In public colleges total credit headcount enrollments fell by 0.5 percent over fall 1984 figures while independent college total credit headcount declined by 5.8 percent over the previous year's fall count. Table A displays these relationships.

Also presented in Table A are: 1) the percent fulltime and parttime enrollments compared with total enrollments, and 2) the weighted totals in both the fulltime and parttime categories.

The weighted totals indicate that the declines between the two years were caused by drops in fulltime enrollments. In public institutions, parttime enrollment increased slightly between 1984 and 1985.

Table I following these introductory sections provides a college-by-college analysis of reported enrollment data and other information. Table II (all colleges), Table III (public colleges), and Table IV (independent colleges) summarize selected data state-by-state.

The total amount reported by the public colleges was $6,337,516,969. Weighted totals show that the public community, technical, and junior college operating budget for fall 1985 was over $12.8 billion.

Of those reporting figures, the following proportions of the total budget were contributed by:

- federal—6 percent
- state—46 percent
- local—16 percent
- tuition and fees—15 percent.

The remaining 17 percent was derived from other sources.

Sixty-three (63) independent colleges reported a total operating budget of $215,267,082. The weighted total is $421,266,305. The weighted total for all community, technical, and junior colleges is $13,224,330,305.

Independent colleges awarded 72.2 percent of all their degrees in this area. Total weighted general education degrees awarded by both types of institutions was 206,047.

ii. Occupational/Technical Degrees: Occupational/technical degrees awarded by public institutions numbered 105,887. The weighted total degrees in this category is 250,892 or 65.6 percent of all degrees awarded in public colleges. The weighted total of occupational/technical degrees awarded by independent institutions is 11,955. The grand total for both types of institutions is 262,847.

- Room and Board: One hundred fifty six (156) public colleges reported that they operated dormitories for students; the average annual dormitory costs were $829. Board costs were reported by 142 public colleges at an average of $1,131 per year. Seventy-seven (77) independent colleges indicated that dormitory facilities cost students $1,155 per year on average, and 68 of these colleges said they charged on average $1,353 for board.

- Professional Staff: The weighted professional staff total in the public colleges was 26,105. Women represent 54.4 percent of the total.

- Administrators: The weighted total for administrators in the public colleges was 19,415. With a total weighted faculty count of 248,957, the faculty/administrator ratio is 12.8 to 1.

Over 48 percent (48.2) of the students enrolled in occupational/technical programs—a weighted total of 2,212,909. Students in remedial/developmental programs in public institutions numbered 591,589 (weighted). Over half a million students (617,053— weighted) participated in special business/industry programs.

APPENDIX

of the American Association of Community and Junior Colleges*

Preamble

We who serve in community and junior colleges are unified in the American Association of Community and Junior Colleges by a common desire to assist in extending educational opportunity to all citizens of this nation.

We believe education is essential for realizing the fullest potential of each member of our society and that appropriate higher education should be available to all who can benefit from it. Though diverse in purpose, in type, in control, in size, and in geographic location, members of the Association share a singleness of concern and dedication to this educational mission.

Article I. Name

The name of this organization will be "American Association of Community and Junior Colleges."

Article II. Purposes

The Association is organized and shall be operated exclusively for charitable and educational purposes and shall not engage in any activity which is not permitted by an organization exempt from taxation under Section 501(a) and described in Section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code. No part of its net earnings shall inure to the benefit of any private individual except that reasonable compensation may be paid for services actually rendered. No substantial part of its activities shall be for carrying on propaganda, or otherwise attempting to influence legislation, and it shall not participate in, or intervene in (including the publishing or distributing of statements) any political campaign on behalf of any candidate for public office.

Pursuant to these purposes, the Association shall promote the sound growth of community and junior colleges and shall help create in them an atmosphere conducive to learning. It shall contribute in every practical way to the development of a better human environment in America by working for the extension of full educational opportunity to all Americans on an equitable basis, qualitatively and quantitatively, and by striving for the elimination of all forms of discrimination whether by race, creed, sex, or financial condition.

Article III. Membership

Section 1. The members of this organization shall be limited to community, junior, and technical colleges, and similar postsecondary institutions which are not private foundations by reasons of Section 509(a) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954 (or the corresponding provisions of any future United States Internal Revenue Law). Representatives of provisional institutional members are entitled to all privileges of the full institutional member of the Association except that they are ineligible to hold elective office. Provisional institutional members may hold this classification for five years, and during this time the Association will use appropriate resources to assist the institution to obtain the necessary accreditation.

Section 2. Bylaws

I. Membership

1. Each campus or college of a multicampus institution shall be invited to become an institutional member. When each campus or college holds such membership, the parent institution shall automatically become an institutional member at no additional cost. Each campus unit holding membership, as well as the parent institution, shall be entitled to all membership privileges, including the right of its representative to vote and hold elective office.

2. The chief executive officer of the member institution shall be recognized as its official designated representative unless the institution's chief executive officer has designated, in writing, another individual.

II. Organizational Structure

1. Officers and Directors

Directors shall serve for no more than two complete terms. A complete term shall normally be three years; however, a term of two years or more shall be considered a complete term.

Officers of the Board of Directors shall be a chairman and a vice chairman, elected by members of the Board. Election of the officers shall take place at the spring meeting of the Board, with term of office to be for one year, beginning July 1 of the year of their election. The elected chairman and the elected vice chairman shall be limited to serving one term in their respective offices.

2. Committees of the Board

The Board of Directors shall have an executive committee from its own membership, a committee on professional services, a committee on directors and membership services, a committee on federal relations, and a committee on Association vitality and publications. It may also establish ad hoc committees. These committees shall be appointed by the chairman of the Board with approval of the Board.

3. Meetings of the Board

The Board of Directors shall meet at least twice a year. Written notice of all Board meetings shall be sent to the directors at least thirty (30) days in advance.

4. Other Groups

The Board of Directors may authorize the creation of discontinuance of commissions, committees, task forces, or similar groups responsible for broad areas of Association activities under the guidance and direction of the Board. The Board of Directors shall establish tenure of members of such commissions and committees. The chairman of the Board shall appoint the members of committees, commissions, and other such groups.

5. Responsibilities of the President

The president of the Association shall have general administrative supervision of the affairs of the Association and shall be responsible for the execution of such plans and policies as the Board of Directors may authorize, direct, or approve. He shall assign staff members appropriate titles and duties. He shall be ex officio a member of all commissions and committees, excepting the nominating committee. He shall report annually to the Association and shall make such other reports as the Board of Directors may request. He shall prepare and recommend an annual budget to the Board of Directors. He shall be responsible for the collection of dues and for the custody of funds of the Association and shall make payments therefore in accordance with the authorizations and directions of the Board of Directors. He shall serve at the pleasure of the Board of Directors or for such term as the Board of Directors may determine.

A secretary and a treasurer may be designated by the president with approval of the Board of Directors.

6. Delegation of Authority

The Board of Directors, the governing body of the Association, may at its discretion delegate portions of its authority (except approval of the budget) to the specific officers of the Association, to committees of the Board, or to councils, commissions, and committees of the Association.

7. Councils

The Board may from time to time enter into an agreement with councils which are organized and operate for purposes which contribute to and significantly benefit the purposes of the Association. Such an agreement, for a specified period of time, will constitute a formal affiliation with the Association. Such councils shall be organized and operated in a manner consistent with rules and regulations approved by the Board. For a council to become officially affiliated with the Association, it must submit a written request to the Board of Directors setting forth its purposes, membership criteria, form of governance, and financial structure. Approval of the Board and written notification to the council constitute official recognition and affiliation with the Association. The Board may withdraw formal affiliation of a council by a written ninety (90) day notice.

Any notice of withdrawal must set forth the reason. A group so affected may be granted a hearing by the Board if an appeal is filed within thirty (30) days after such notice is mailed by the Board.

III. Nominations

1. Nominations for the eighteen institutional representatives shall be by the Board of Directors' committee on directors. Additional nominations may be made from the membership of institutional representatives.

2. Nominations for the eighteen institutional representatives, including source and biographical statements about nominees, shall constitute a mail ballot to be sent to the official institutional representatives by April 15 of each year.

3. The Board of Directors shall elect its at-large members from nominations made by the Board's committee on directors, with results announced to the membership at the earliest practical date following election.

4. Each recognized council not represented on the Board of Directors, including those councils whose terms are to end in the current Board year, will be invited to submit a nomination to the Board's committee on directors. This nomination from each council shall be whatever procedure is endorsed by a decision of the members of each council concerned. If a council nominee is officially connected with an institution eligible for membership in the Association, that institution must be an institutional member. The nominations for the recognized councils, together with source and biographical statements about the nominees, shall be a part of the mail ballot to be sent to the official institutional representatives by April 15 of each year.

5. In cases of vacancies, replacements are to be made for the remainder of the membership year by appointment of the Board of Directors.

IV. Succession of Officers and Directors

1. Members of the Board shall be considered to be ineligible to serve in the category in which they were elected if by reason of change of position they no longer represent that category. The term of office of such a member shall be terminated effective the date of change.

V. Membership Lists

1. Names of all members shall be published annually.

2. Any members whose dues are unpaid for the preceding year shall be dropped from the membership list.

3. Institutions dropped for non-payment of dues may be reinstated by making a new application for membership in which case the Board may require the payment of delinquent dues.

VI. Fiscal Policy

1. The fiscal year of the Association shall begin January 1 and close on December 31. The Board of Directors shall have authority to change the fiscal year.

2. The Board of Directors shall adopt an annual budget for each fiscal year.

3. The Association, on approval by the Board of Directors, may accept grants from foundations and other appropriate donors and enter into contract with the federal government and other appropriate agencies to pursue investigations and perform services consistent with Association objectives.

4. There shall be an annual audit of the general financial condition and operations of the Association by a certified public accountant.

5. The president and all employees of the Association office who handle any part of the funds of the Association shall be bonded, the amount of the bonds to be determined by the Board of Directors and paid for by the Association.

VII. Annual Meeting

1. The annual meeting of the Association shall be held at a time and place determined by the Board. Written notice of all meetings shall be sent to all members at least two weeks in advance.
